“Annual conference on Sustainable Agriculture”

The conference was organized by Crop Life Science Limited Foundation India. The key challenge was addressed that was doubling the farmers income. Despite India being the second largest producer, the farmers income had not increased due to the farmgate prices being 40-50% of consumer prices. New initiatives like e-Mandi and value chains for Agri-processing were introduced. It was discovered that growth in farmers income can only be through better realization of prices at farmgate. Farmgate could ensure that farmers can afford to increase the use of modern science-based inputs.
